DePaul University and the American Red Cross are hosting a unique two-day workshop to introduce individuals to humanitarian action and principles in armed conflict, and the rules that govern humanitarian action in conflict zones. This workshop will feature a series of diverse presentations, active discussion and hands-on exercises with fellow participants.

This workshop will also include an opportunity to hear from a panel of non-governmental organizations (NGOs) about their humanitarian work and international career paths.

The workshop is geared towards an undergraduate audience, but all current or recent students and faculty are welcome to attend.

Coffee and Lunch will be provided both days.

Presentation topics include:

- An introduction to International Humanitarian Law
- The humanitarian challenges of contemporary armed conflict
- Interactive group exercise: 'Operational Protections' in refugee camps and settlements

Space is limited.
